

Colin Gray
Dossier Second Review
Feedback

Quality of the overall work and candidate statement

Overall, your candidate statement was well-designed and did a good job of representing your overall body of work. Your portfolio was easy to navigate and provided examples that demonstrated both your depth and breadth of work. Well done!

Competence in research

You demonstrated a wide range of experiences and expertise with your research projects. As stated in the dossier review, you may want to consider expanding your research repertoire to include more experimental/quantitative research methods. However, we were impressed with the work you have done and encourage you to continue your line of research exploring design pedagogy.

Competence in teaching

You have done an excellent job of taking the initiative to expand your teaching experience at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. We encourage you to continue to explore opportunities to gain further formal teaching experience – particularly at the undergraduate level.

Commitment to service

All of the faculty appreciate the service you have provided to IST. Continue to explore service opportunities at the national level.

Oral presentation

Excellent oral presentation. You handled all of our questions thoughtfully and with poise. Great job!

Outcome of 2nd Dossier Review:

Fail<sup>1</sup>     Conditional Pass<sup>2</sup>     Pass

Congratulations Colin! Excellent job!

<sup>2</sup> If a student gets conditional pass, he or she is given a deadline for meeting the conditions, and the full faculty reviews it for pass or fail. The student will also be given options should they not want to meet the conditions.
