

International Journal of Designs for Learning dedicated to publishing descriptions of artifacts, environments and experiences created to promote and support learning in all contexts by designers in any field sharing design precedent.

The journal provides a venue for designers to share their knowledge-in-practice through rich representations of their designs and detailed discussion of decision-making. The aim of the journal is to support the production of high-quality precedent materials and to promote and demonstrate the value of doing so. Audiences for the journal include designers, teachers and students of design and scholars studying the practice of design.

visit our site at

[http://scholarworks.iu.edu/
journals/index.php/ijdl](http://scholarworks.iu.edu/journals/index.php/ijdl)

SUPPORTED BY:

IU ScholarWORKS

Advisory Board

Elizabeth Boling
Indiana University Bloomington

Ian Brown
University of Wallongong, Australia

Andy Gibbons
Brigham Young University

Brad Hokanson
University of Minnesota

David Jonassen
University of Missouri

Karen Kaminski
Colorado State University

Tiffany A. Koszalka
Syracuse University

Linda Lohr
University of Northern Colorado

Gordon Rowland
Ithaca College

Richard A. Schweir
University of Saskatchewan

Kennon M. Smith
Indiana University Bloomington

Erik Stolterman
Indiana University Bloomington

Ellen Wagner
Western Interstate Commission on Higher Education Cooperative for Educational Technologies